

Anki Cheatsheet

Basics

- `Ctrl + N` - Create a new flashcard
- `Ctrl + Shift + N` - Create a new note
- `Ctrl + S` - Save changes
- `Ctrl + Shift + S` - Save changes and synchronize
- `Ctrl + Q` - Quit Anki

Navigation

- `Space` - Reveal the back of the card
- `Enter` - Mark card as "good"
- `1` - Mark card as "again"
- `2` - Mark card as "hard"
- `3` - Mark card as "good"
- `4` - Mark card as "easy"
- `J` - Show next card
- `K` - Show previous card
- `F` - Flip the card
- `Shift + Left Arrow` - Move to previous field
- `Shift + Right Arrow` - Move to next field
- `Ctrl + Left Arrow` - Move to previous card
- `Ctrl + Right Arrow` - Move to next card

Card and Note Types

- Basic - The most common type of flashcard
- Cloze - A flashcard where parts of the text are hidden
- Image Occlusion - A flashcard where parts of an image are hidden

Shortcuts

Anki has many built-in shortcuts. You can find them all in the Anki documentation.

Resources

- Anki website
- Anki documentation
- r/Anki